WasteExpo 2004

WasteExpo is the largest trade show in North America serving the $43 billion solid waste and recycling market. And this year, ChemStation will be there exhibiting our system as the solution in odor control and vehicle cleaning in these industries. This large event will be held at the Dallas Convention Center in Dallas, Texas from May 18-20. If you plan to attend, please make it a point to stop in at our booth (#8124) and say hello to the ChemStation staff. Find out more about how we're "Keeping it Clean." ■

The High Cost of Falling Down

Accidents take an incredible toll on the U.S. economy. We spend $177 billion every year on injuries caused by falls, car wrecks and other accidents. Accidents account for 10 percent of all medical spending in the United States. What's more, injuries are the No. 1 [redacted]se of death for Americans age 35 and [redacted]ounger. In the year 2000, 44.7 million [redacted]Americans needed treatment for some type of injury. ■

Sometimes the mind, for reasons we don't necessarily understand, just decided to go to the store for a quart of milk.

Insanity: doing the same thing over and over again and expecting different results. – Albert Einstein

The squeaking wheel doesn't always get the grease. Sometimes it gets replaced.

Home computers are being called upon to perform many new functions, including the consumption of homework formerly eaten by the dog.

Age is a very high price to pay for maturity.

You're not the same person you were a month ago, not on the outside, anyway. Human skin cells only live about three weeks before they die.

Peanuts are one of the ingredients in dynamite.

Advertising may be described as the science of arresting the human intelligence long enough to get money from it. – Anonymous

Those who can't laugh at themselves leave the job to others.

Our taste buds wear out every week to 10 days and are replaced; but at a slower pace once we hit our mid-40s.

You won't skid if you stay in a rut.

Even if you're on the right track, you'll get run over if you just sit there. – Will Rogers

Tact, n. The unsaid part of what you're thinking.

Foods that have the same color have the same number of calories. Examples are spinach and pistachio ice cream, and mushrooms and white chocolate. NOTE: Chocolate is a universal color and may be substituted for any other food color.

An optimist invented the jet…a pessimist, the ejection seat.
