CHEMSTATION®

(800) 554-8265 www.chemstation.com

INSIGHTS

Vol. XV No. 8, August 2003

DEMOCRACY

WEB WATCH

Regulations.gov is the U.S. Government Web site that makes it easier for citizens to participate in federal rulemaking, an essential part of the American democratic process.

On this site you can find, review, and submit comments on federal documents that are open for comment and published in the Federal Register, the government's legal newspaper. As a member of the public, you can submit comments about these regulations, and have the government take your views into account.

To find Federal Register documents currently open for comment, please use the GO buttons on the top of every page. Then, you may use the "Submit a Comment on This Regulation" link to express your opinion on a specific document. Alternatively, you may submit a comment directly to the agency through the PDF or HTML version. ■

SIMPLE SOLUTIONS

Doing the simple things can prevent accident or injury. An injury does not have to be life threatening; simply cutting your finger while opening a cardboard box is something worth avoiding.

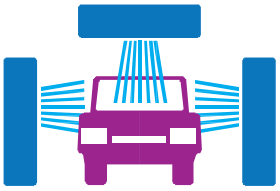

Make things easier for yourself. Look around you, inspect all areas of your facility for sharp objects or other hazardous items before you dig into boxes or pull something out of the trashcan.

It isn't necessary to do everything with great speed. For example, try removing one object at a time from a shelf instead of a whole stack, or move something out of your walkway rather than kick it. Twisting an ankle or spraining a wrist are annoyances that can be avoided by thinking before acting. ■

NEW VEHICLE DETERGENT

If you haven't heard… ChemStation has created a new Touchless Fleet Washing Detergent to satisfy all of your needs. Our new, scientifically developed detergent can be used on any car, truck, tractor, or heavy equipment surface and is compatible with any equipment application. The new detergent can help to decrease the man-hours and "elbow grease" required for cleaning your vehicles. If you haven't heard or tried this new detergent, speak with your local ChemStation Representative today for a cleaning trial. ■

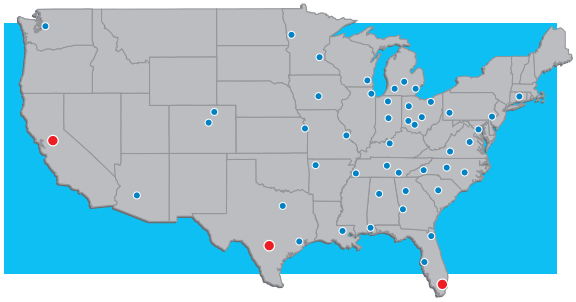

BUSTIN' OUT ALL OVER

In January, we told you our outlook for 2003 was bright and that we anticipated the opening of "a number" of new Manufacturing Centers to add to our network. By February we announced two new locations…Greeley, CO and Asheville, NC. Now we've updated our map again, adding Stockton, CA, San Antonio, TX, and Miami, FL.

More locations to supply more customers with our environmentally safe, water-based detergents and process chemicals…whether they're cleaning poultry fat off machinery, grease from metal surfaces, tire marks off sealed concrete floors or odor from the air.

With ChemStation…Our System is Your Solution! ■

CHEMSTATION®

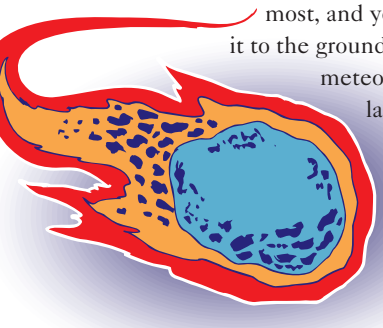

Serendipity in Space

What is a comet? Comets have been described as dirty snowballs, snowy dirtballs, or something in between. But what does that mean? It means that comets are a cold mixture of frozen water, dry ice, and bits of dusty material left over from the early formation of the solar system. They're "cosmic refrigerators," keeping all that primordial stuff on ice.

What is an asteroid? Asteroids are snowy dirtballs minus all the snow. They're typically made of iron and nickel or a stony blend of rocky stuff. Most orbit the sun between Mars and Jupiter, as parts of a planet that never quite formed (or, some say, a planet that formed but broke apart).

What is a meteor? Meteors are fragments that break off from comets and asteroids and enter our atmosphere. The intense heat vaporizes most, and you see a shooting star. If any bit makes it to the ground, it's called a meteorite. The largest meteorite ever found in the United States landed in a Nebraska wheat field and weighed 2,360 pounds. ■

Source: Knowledge News

Visit us at:
www.chemstation.com

Send your comments to:

Insights Editor, ChemStation, 3400 Encrete Lane, Dayton OH 45439
Email: kdunlap@chemstation.com

Printed on recycled paper

Soapbox

If you look like your passport picture, you probably need the trip.

Wrinkles, n. Something other people have. You have character lines.

A balanced diet is a cookie in each hand.

Ever wonder why lemon juice is made with artificial flavor and dishwashing liquid is made with real lemons?

By the time you can make ends meet, they move the ends.

Experience is a wonderful thing. It enables you to recognize a mistake when you make it again.

Chicken, n. The only animal you eat before they are born and after they are dead.

Venus is the only planet that rotates clockwise.

Thanks to the Interstate Highway System, it is now possible to travel from coast to coast without seeing anything.
– Charles Kuralt

Only in America do people order double cheeseburgers, large fries, and a diet soda.

Can I trade this job for what's behind door number one?

Bloopers in the News: Panda mating fails; veterinarian takes over

Patience, n. A minor form of despair, disguised as a virtue.

My dog is worried about the economy because Alpo is up to 99¢ a can. That's almost $7 in dog money.

People judge you not by the size of your feet, but by whether your socks match.

Opportunity is missed by most people because it is dressed in overalls and looks like work. – Thomas A. Edison

ChemStation